2019 Fly-Tying Class Get ready to tie!

Coming up in January, the club will once again hold our annual 12-week fly-tying class. Starting with the basics, this class will teach up to intermediate skills in fly tying. Each week you will be taught a proven fly pattern along with tips on how, and when, to use the fly from accomplished fly tiers and fly fishers in the club.

If you're new to tying, or want to improve your skills, this is a great venue to get one-on-one help. The instructors and other seasoned tiers are happy to sit alongside you and help you through each pattern. Tying materials and hooks needed to tie 2 or 3 flies each week will be provided, along with written instructions for each fly.

You will need to bring your own fly tying vise and tools (bobbin, thread, scissors, hair stacker, head cement, etc.). We will email you a list of necessary items prior to the first class. If you are just getting started and don't know or have what you'll need let me know and we'll provide some loaner equipment to get you started. Ron Downing, the club ghillie, also has some fly-tying kits available for purchase.

When: Wednesdays, 6:30pm - 8:30pm, January 2 through March 20

- Location: Art Room, Rosehill Community Center, Mukilteo, WA
- Cost: $40 for members, $60 for the general public

Details on how to register (online or by phone) will be provided at a future club meeting and in the newsletter.

Have a pattern you'd like to share?

We have several volunteers already (thank you!) but could use more instructors to fill out the roster. Volunteering is a great way to give back to the club, any costs for materials will be reimbursed, and your entry into the class is free! Please contact Mike Benbow or Craig Hardt if you'd like to be an instructor for the upcoming class.

Half Day Guided Boat Trip With Sound Fly Fishing
Retail Price - $400

About Sound Fly Fishing:

Welcome to Sound Fly Fishing, a saltwater guide service located in Seattle, Washington. Since 2007 we have been guiding clients on the waters of Puget Sound for sea run cutthroat. The salt waters of our area are becoming more popular every day due to the fact that people just want to try something different.

Sound Fly Fishing offers a new perspective on fishing Puget Sound. With the utilization of a push pole, as a flats guide may, we cover more water and with zero sound. In our opinion this is the most effective way to fish cutthroat in Puget Sound. It is also a lot of fun!

We will make your day both fun and exciting while you catch fish on a fly from Puget Sound! We guide sea run cutthroat via a Boston Whaler Montauk or walk & wade trips on foot. It is our belief that guides should teach and fish what their passion is and ours is the fish of Puget Sound. As you cast, crystal clear salt water rolls in on your feet while the Olympic Mountains provide a perfect back drop to the very waters that you fish.

Our mission is to provide a fun, memorable and educational day on the water that introduces you to Sound Fly Fishing.

About Me:

Captain Ben Zander grew up just blocks from Puget Sound and is a third generation fly fisherman. He has fished all over the western states for trout and steelhead as well as having a serious addiction for tarpon in the Gulf of Mexico. However, his passion can not be contained for the Puget Sound. South sound, to Seattle, to north of Bellingham, Ben has fished it all. He has developed innovative flies for imitating bait fish to larger marabou flies for salmon in the salt. Ben has developed a following of customers at Pacific Fly Fishers, where he is when not guiding, who seek his advice on coastal cutthroat. "There really is nothing more enjoyable than to see someone's face when they hook up with a cutthroat for the first time in the salt." Ben really is devoted to his angling clientele and life as a salt water guide. He has an enthusiastic attitude and easy to get along with personality.

Ben is licensed by the USCG as an UPV operator, a member of the American Fly Fishing Trade Association, CPR and first aid certified, and is fully licensed by Washington State. He has been interviewed by numerous fishing magazines on the topic of Puget Sound Fly Fishing and has appeared in fly fishing movies, radio shows and television programs. He is an official Simms Guide Ambassador & Sage Elite Pro.

EFFC Activities

In July, the club holds its meeting on the North Fork of the Stillaguamish River to coincide with its summer steelhead outing. There is no regular meeting in December because of the Christmas Party, awards ceremony and year-end fund-raiser. In addition to gathering on the North Fork each July, the club holds a number of other group fishing outings, including a winter steelhead fishout, a spring lake fishout, and a fall cutthroat fishout. Along with these official club fishouts that have organized meals and awards, we also have some scheduled unofficial fishouts throughout the year where members simply meet to go fishing. Members also get together regularly for such projects as the June cleanup of the North Fork, a storied summer-run steelhead river that the club considers its home waters.

Each winter, members conduct a series of fly-tying classes featuring proven patterns. Rod building classes have been conducted in the past as needed. The club also supports a number of conservation related activities. We try to keep up on legislative issues affecting our sport and make our opinions known to the Legislature or state fish and wildlife officials. In addition to the river cleanup, the club sends four children to a summer conservation camp each year and donates to various non-club projects and sponsors projects of our own. In the spring of 1999 for example, the club spent two weekends planting trees along North Fork feeder creeks to support young salmon and steelhead. During 2000 and 2001 a historical monument was conceived and built on the north fork of the Stillaguamish River.
